

14. Some people run errands or take part in activities either on their way to work or on their way home. For example: dropping the kids off at school or daycare – or picking them up; taking a spouse to work; going to the gym or a social activity; shopping or going to a restaurant.

Do you have any errands that are a routine part of your commute? ... it could be a daily errand or one that you do only once a week, but is part of your drive to or from work.

- ₂ No → Go to Q21

15. Please describe the errands or stops you make either going to or from work.

(CLARIFY – DO THEY DO THESE ERRANDS EVERY DAY? – MAKE A NOTE OF HOW OFTEN)

Errand	To or From Work?	How Often?

16. How many miles (does this errand) (do these errands) add to your commute?

(YOU MAY NEED TO CLARIFY THEIR ANSWER: IF ONE ERRAND IS DAILY AND ONE IS WEEKLY THE MILES WOULD HAVE TO BE SEPARATED. SIMILARLY IF ONE ERRAND OCCURS GOING TO WORK + GOING HOME AND ANOTHER IS JUST GOING HOME.)

17. How do these errands get done on the days that you telework? Or, if you haven't started telework yet, how do you plan to handle it? (You can tailor this to what they do)

If the errands don't occur on telework days, you can skip Q18.

18. Miles Used For Errands: (DO NOT READ)

If the respondent is driving the errand themselves on a telework day (e.g. taking the kids to school and then driving back home), we need to know the round trip miles from home and back and how long it takes. How do the kids get picked up? Do they make another round trip in the afternoon?

If a spouse is running that errand on his/her way to work, we need to know the extra mileage it creates for him/her ... and again, how the kids get picked up.
